the Upstate community

GREENVILLE, SC - August 10, 2016 - The Greenville Area Development Corporation (GADC), the County-chartered organization tasked with advancing the area's economic growth, announced today that Morley, an award-winning customer service company, is launching a new customer contact center in Greenville County. The new facility will create more than 270 new jobs and lead to $1.7 million of new investment.

Founded in 1863, Morley serves a diverse group of Fortune 500 global clients. Morley's product groups include business process outsourcing (BPO), Meetings & Incentives, and Exhibits & Displays.

"Morley is excited to join the Upstate community by opening our new customer contact center in Greenville County. We are overwhelmed by the gracious welcome that we have received from this vibrant community and look forward to actively supporting our shared prosperity." -Morley President and CEO Paul Furlo

"We're excited to welcome Morley to the South Carolina family and celebrate its decision to do business in our state. With this investment and the 270 new jobs it means for the Upstate, Morley is making an important commitment to our state and its people, and we look forward to watching it succeed and grow here for many years to come." - Gov. Nikki Haley

"South Carolina is an ideal destination for business where we make every effort to cultivate an exceptional business climate, and today's announcement by Morley is a testament to that. Congratulations to the company on deciding to invest in Greenville County, and we anticipate great things from their new operation." -Secretary of Commerce Bobby Hitt

"I am thrilled Morley has chosen Greenville County to locate its new operations and create hundreds of tech-related jobs. With a diverse and vibrant business community, Greenville continues to be a strong business choice, and we welcome Morley as our newest corporate citizen." -Greenville County Council Chairman Dr. Bob Taylor

"The City of Mauldin is extremely pleased to welcome Morley to our community along with their $1.7 million investment and the addition of 270 high-tech jobs. Our high quality of life, outstanding services and amenities, great schools and a strong Chamber of Commerce make Mauldin attractive to business and residents alike and we are committed to continual improvement!" -City of Mauldin Mayor Dennis Raines

Located at 400 Brookfield Parkway in Greenville, S.C., Morley's new 25,000-square-foot facility is expected to begin hiring for the new positions immediately. Those interested in joining the Morley team should visit the company's career page online at www.morleyjob.com.
